This seminar will be an opportunity to question and to learn more about some of the common types of canine problems from a health, training and behavioural viewpoint. During the day we will explore some problems that occur in dogs of all types, ages and conditions. We will look at how to recognise whether problems are health related; the warning signs to look for and what to do to keep yourself, others and your dog safe. We will also work through some case studies and present some thoughts and strategies to be used to be able to help and improve matters.
